We need you in our team for the role of DATA ANALYST

You developed a thorough understanding of theoretical concepts
You will continue to build your knowledge through experience and own initiative
You are creative, cheerful and in love with life.
You have the enthusiasm of a 5-years old, your second name is Curiosity
You love reading and learning new things every day.

Autonet contribution and Innovation

You will collaborate and encourage problem solving between teams
You will coach others to live by Autonet values
Every day you will shape and develop Autonet culture
You will raise awareness when internal or external quality is not good enough
You will contribute to process and team improvements
You will explore and experiment to challenge yourself and establish norms

In your role

You will assist in gathering ad hoc data serving the Commercial Division but not only
You will assist in creating and driving data models, in-line with the commercial aspirations
You will assist in controlling business and operating expenses within the division
You will work across departments within the organization to facilitate the closing of deals
You will build and follow KPI's in order to help general management
You will collaborate with Sales team to ensure accuracy of the CRM system and to provide ad hoc reports
You should be willing to scrutinize processes and standards in order to achieve improvements

Personal development

You will take responsibility of your own career development
You will promote that failing is an option
You will actively seek courses, books and conferences to get more knowledge
You will keep yourself up to date on tech and craftmanship
You will dare going outside your role and conform zone

Team contribution

You will be good at giving and receiving feedback
You will participate actively in improving workflows, reports
You will have a good cross functional understanding
You will communicate risk and say No when applicable
You will raise awareness when internal or external quality is not good enough
You will engage in interdepartmental projects and initiatives

Are you interested?
Send us your CV to elena.medve@autonet.ro until 04.04.2022

AUTONET.